

Unveiling the Adventure Collection: Axopar and Jobe Watersports redefine watersports

Fort Lauderdale, 30 October, 2024

Axopar Boats and Jobe Watersports are excited to debut the first products of their new Adventure Collection at the Fort Lauderdale International Boat Show, marking the U.S. premiere of this carefully curated selection of watersports gear, designed to enhance the boating experience.

Designed for adventurers on the water, this collection seamlessly integrates advanced technology with practical design, reflecting the commitment to quality and performance that both brands are renowned for. The collection includes an inflatable kayak for two, a stand-up paddle board, an underwater scooter, a life vest, a range of drybags, and a cooler bag from Jobe Watersports.

A collaboration rooted in innovation

Axopar and Jobe Watersports have combined their expertise and passion to create a truly unique watersports concept in the global market. The collection is more than just a range of products — it represents the synergy between Axopar and Jobe Watersports, two industry leaders with a shared passion for innovation and watersports. This collaboration offers top-of-the-line watersports gear that perfectly complements Axopar boats, delivering an immersive and cohesive experience on the water.

Jan-Erik Viitala, Founding Partner of Axopar Boats, says, "With this new collection, the adventure extends beyond what you can do onboard — it leaps into new territories. The gear is perfect for bringing along on the boat, but its possibilities are so much greater. Imagine packing an inflatable two-person kayak or SUP board into a backpack and unlocking a whole new world of exploration. Curious minds can uncover hidden coves and secret caves, places only accessible with this kind of watersports gear. Whether you embark on a solo journey or share the adventure with a loved one, it enriches your day at sea in a completely new way. I'm thrilled by how this collaboration expands adventures on the water, bringing new levels of exploration and fun."

This collection embodies the spirit of adventure and freedom that is at the core of Axopar and Jobe Watersports. Both brands are dedicated to enhancing the boating experience and bringing more people out on the water.

Ivo Rietveld, Brand & Creative Manager of Jobe Watersports, says "I'm proud to see the Adventure Collection come to life and be showcased by Axopar at this show. It's an honor to add this exclusive line of high-end watersports products to Jobe's product range. This collection enriches our offering and meets the needs of Axopar enthusiasts who are looking to enhance their time on the water. It's a fantastic opportunity to provide gear that perfectly complements the full Axopar range and elevates their customers' overall watersports experience."

How to acquire the Adventure Collection

New Axopar boat buyers can opt to include Adventure Collection packages, with gear delivered alongside the boat. For customers outside Europe, the collection is available through local Axopar or Jobe dealers.

European customers can also purchase the collection directly from Jobe's website: <https://www.jobesports.com/en/the-adventure-collection>. For further assistance or questions about the Adventure Collection, contacting the nearest dealer is recommended.

Looking ahead: The full Adventure Collection launch

While the launch at FLIBS in 2024 focuses on the Jobe Watersports part of the collection, the full Adventure Collection, which also includes the Sail Racing line of clothing and accessories, will be unveiled at the Düsseldorf BOOT25 boat show in January 2025. This product range will feature high-quality garments such as jackets, hoodies, t-shirts, caps, and bags, all designed to embody the same spirit of adventure and functionality as the rest of the collection.

The full Adventure Collection represents a unique collaboration, offering premium products for the global community of Axoparians and all Axopar fans, seamlessly integrating water sports gear, clothing and Axopar boats.
